

'ARC'TICLE TIME IT IS!

*Dear Members,
Sharing July's List of Articles on Family Planning and SRHR.*

Focus of the week: correlation of women's sexual autonomy with STI, India's population challenges, and India's demographic journey.

Let's Read, Reflect & Discuss together.

Article 1: Women with No Sexual Autonomy Twice Likely to Get STIs: Study

Women facing controlling husbands and intimate partner violence are at higher risk of developing sexually transmitted infections (STIs) or reproductive tract infections (RTIs) in India.

Article 2: A Population Count and Many Allied Issues.

It discusses India's population challenges, including urban migration, elderly care, and climate change. It also highlights global efforts to improve women's sexual and reproductive health through better contraceptive access.

Article 3: India's Demographic Journey of Hits and Misses

India's demographic journey, its progress in controlling population growth and improving key development indicators.
